Ricky
LAREU

As a long-serving academic at Curtin University and a UniSuper member, I am standing for election to the UniSuper Consultative Committee because I believe academic staff should have a genuine voice in decisions that affect our retirement future and the fund's ongoing success. The Committee plays an important role in representing members, contributing to good governance, and helping ensure UniSuper continues to deliver strong retirement outcomes.

Over the years, I have worked with colleagues, students and professional organisations in a variety of leadership and committee roles. Those experiences have reinforced the value of listening carefully, considering different perspectives and working collaboratively to achieve positive outcomes.

If elected, I will bring a practical, thoughtful and approachable style to the role. I will listen to colleagues, represent their views fairly, and contribute constructively to discussions that shape UniSuper's future.

Strong member representation helps build strong retirement outcomes.

Dale
PINTO

I seek re-election as Curtin's academic staff representative on the UniSuper Consultative Committee, bringing continuity, experience and a strong commitment to members' retirement outcomes. I have served three terms on the Committee and have more than 30 years' experience at Curtin. As John Curtin Distinguished Professor of Taxation Law, President and Chair of CPA Australia, and former Chair of Curtin's Academic Board, I bring expertise in taxation, governance and accountability. My experience includes the Tax Practitioners Board, ATO Tax Technical Panel (Superannuation) and Board of Taxation advisory work, alongside superannuation research and doctoral supervision, and the Australasian Tax Teachers Association Medal for my contribution to tax teaching and policy. I will listen to colleagues, represent their concerns and advocate for clear communication, responsive service and sound retirement outcomes. I will contribute independently and constructively, support careful consideration of Trust Deed changes, and act in the interests of all UniSuper members.
