Acknowledgment of Country

Curtin University acknowledges Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, the First Peoples of this place we call Australia, and recognises them for caring for Country for more than 60,000 years.

We are honoured and grateful for the privilege to maintain campuses operating in Boorloo (Perth) and Karlkurla (Kalgoorlie) in Australia. We pay our respects to Elders past and present as Custodians and Owners of these lands.

We recognise their deep knowledge and their cultural, spiritual and educational practices, and aspire to learn and teach in partnership with them.

Curtin also acknowledges First Nations peoples connected with our global campuses. We are committed to working in partnership with all Custodians and Owners to strengthen and embed First Nations' voices and perspectives in our decision-making, now and into the future.

Welcome to Kalgoorlie

We're here to help you find your way and get settled into life in the historic Goldfields region of Western Australia.

Kalgoorlie lies on traditional lands and is referred to as Kalgoorlie-Boulder as the surrounding urban area is the City of Kalgoorlie-Boulder.

The historic mining town of Kalgoorlie is located in the Goldfields region of Western Australia (WA), approximately 600 kilometres (km) east of Perth. The town, established in 1893 with the discovery of gold, remains an important centre for the state's mining industry.

Curtin Kalgoorlie is located next to the Central Business District, with student housing a short walk away, providing a strong community atmosphere. Studying in Kalgoorlie offers opportunities to gain hands on experience whilst building industry networks with experts living and working in Western Australia's Goldfields.

Airport

Arrive Kalgoorlie-Boulder Airport (Tel: 08 9021 9600). Once you arrive in Kalgoorlie collect your luggage and make your way to the taxi and ride share area. Fares to most places in Kalgoorlie cost around AUD$20-30. Kalgoorlie airport is about 5km from the centre of Kalgoorlie. If you've completed an acceptance letter to stay at Agricola, you can request to be picked up.

You'll need to let Curtin know your address within seven days of your arrival in Australia

Australian quarantine laws

Australia has a unique environment, free from many of the pests and diseases found elsewhere in the world. When travelling to Australia, it is important to be aware of Australian quarantine laws to avoid financial penalty.

Complete an Incoming Passenger Card prior to immigration. Read the document carefully and complete it truthfully as false declarations can lead to strict penalties.

All animal and plant products, including food items, must be declared for inspection and will be returned in most cases. No matter how small or trivial your items may seem, they are potentially harmful to Australian plants and animals.

If you are carrying AUD$10,000 or more cash – or the equivalent in foreign currency – with you to Australia, you must declare the money on your Incoming Passenger Card. You are also required to declare the money to any Australian Customs officials if questioned upon arrival. Failure to declare this money may result in the money being taken from you and you may also be prosecuted.

It is not an offence to bring large amounts of money into Australia – the offence is not declaring it.

All drugs and medicines should be declared for inspection, especially products that:

- contain substances that are prohibited without a permit (including narcotics, amphetamines, hallucinogens, barbiturates, vaccines, anabolic and androgenic steroids, growth hormones, and erythropoietin (EPO)
- are regarded as performance enhancers in sport.

Medicines that should be declared include:

- prescribed medications
- non-prescribed medications
- complementary and alternative medicines
- herbal and traditional medicines
- vitamins and mineral preparations
- nutritional and dietary supplements.

Do not carry illicit substances into or out of Australia. Penalties for drug offences in Australia are severe and could result in a jail term.

If you have any questions about quarantine laws when you arrive in Australia, ask to speak to a quarantine officer after you have collected your baggage.

Please note: This information is intended as a guide only.

Getting started at Curtin

You have arrived in Kalgoorlie and settled into your accommodation. Now it is time to discover Curtin.

Orientation

Prior to your classes commencing, you will attend Orientation Week. This important week is compulsory for international students and a great way to get to know the campus better and make new connections. During O-Week you will get the opportunity to:

- discover the social, community and recreational activities on offer at Curtin
- find your way around campus and locate lectures, classrooms, labs, and workshops relevant to you
- learn about the support services at Curtin and how they can help you, particularly in your first year
- meet other students
- organise your administrative details, such as student identification fees.

For more info on Orientation at Curtin Kalgoorlie

If you're a coursework student enrolled in a course, you're required to complete Curtin's Academic Integrity Program (AIP) within 14 days of the start of your first study period at Curtin. Log into OASIS to complete the AIP https://oasis.curtin.edu.au/Auth/LogOn?ReturnUrl=%2f

For more info scan the QR below.

At Curtin, we're committed to providing a safe learning environment, and have zero tolerance for sexual assault and harassment. All students are expected to complete an online training program called Respectful Relationships within 14 days of your first study period at Curtin. Log on to Curtin Challenge - https://challenge.curtin.edu.au/ using your student log in and password to complete Respectful Relationships.

Unique Student Identifier (USI)

The Australian Government requires all international students to register for a Unique Student Identifier (USI) which is your individual education number for life.

Once you have created your USI, you can then provide it to the university as part of your enrolment.

You need a USI if you are:

- Undertaking Nationally Recognised Training
- A higher education student graduating in 2026 or beyond

Whether you are starting or recommencing your studies, you must land in Australia and go through customs before you can create a USI using your passport as a form of ID.

To create a USI (when you are in Australia), please visit:

curtin.edu/unique-student-identifier

or scan the QR code to find out more.

Registering for classes

Once you have attended your faculty briefing on enrolments and enrolled in your units, you will be ready to register for your classes.

Please note: you will not be able to register into classes until you have received an Official Communication Channel message from your faculty.

Follow these simple steps to register for your classes:

- LOG INTO OASIS
- CLICK THE 'MY STUDIES' THEN THE 'ESTUDENT' ICON
- ONCE IN ESTUDENT, CLICK THE 'MY CLASSES' TAB
- SCROLL TO THE BOTTOM OF THE PAGE AND CLICK THE 'VIEW TIMETABLE / REGISTER INTO CLASSES' BUTTON
- SELECT THE CLASS YOU WANT TO REGISTER FOR. THIS WILL DISPLAY THE CLASS INFORMATION, INCLUDING PLACES AVAILABLE
- CLICK 'REGISTER'. A MESSAGE WILL THEN DISPLAY TO INFORM YOU THAT YOU ARE REGISTERED
- ONCE COMPLETED, YOU CAN PRINT YOUR TIMETABLE BY CLICKING 'VIEW PRINT FRIENDLY TIMETABLE'.

To log into OASIS visit oasis.curtin.edu.au or scan the QR code.

Your rights and responsibilities

Studying at Curtin is an enriching experience. Learn more about your rights and responsibilities as a member of our student community.

Expressing your opinion

Starting university in a new country is an exciting time as you discover different cultures and make new friends. The experience can also be confusing and overwhelming as you may encounter ideas and ways of life that are different from what you are used to back home.

At Curtin everyone is encouraged to discuss and debate ideas and engage with diverse perspectives inside and outside of class.

You have the right to express yourself, but you also have the responsibility to respect and preserve the rights of others.

You have a right to:

- ✓ express opinions
- ✓ write and show your beliefs
- ✓ peacefully protest about anything
- ✓ engage in healthy debate
- ✓ participate in student clubs
- ✓ leave any club or organisation
- ✓ disagree with, criticise and question politicians, political parties, governments or public figures.

You do not have a right to:

- ✕ use hate speech
- ✕ make or suggest threats
- ✕ attempt to censor or silence others' opinions
- ✕ create fear through intimidation
- ✕ demand or coerce changes to subject matter
- ✕ access or share others' private information without consent.

Policies, procedures and your responsibilities

ESOS legislation and the National Code of Conduct

The ESOS Act 2000 has obligations for education providers to ensure that students receive information and have appropriate support whilst studying in Australia. You are also required to meet requirements of your student visa, and ensure that you comply with these requirements.

For information about the ESOS Act 2000, your enrolment responsibilities and the University's responsibilities, and to access information resources, visit curtin.edu/int-esos

Diversity policy

Curtin recognises, respects and values the diversity of its students, staff and the Curtin community.

If you feel disadvantaged on the basis of difference, you can discuss your concerns with our Student Wellbeing Advisory Service on 08 9088 6029 or at kalgoorliewellbeing@curtin.edu.au

Equal opportunity policy

The University complies with equal opportunity legislation set in place by the Government of Western Australia, and is committed to ensuring you are treated fairly while studying at Curtin.

Student conduct

Understand the rights you have as a student and the expectations the University has of you. Visit curtin.edu/student-rights for more info.

Complaints procedures

- Curtin has official procedures in place to assist you in resolving concerns about academic, administrative and other matters.
- Complaints can relate to academic disputes, unfair or inappropriate behaviour of staff, education agents or anything else you feel has breached Curtin's Code of Conduct (complaintsform.curtin.edu.au) or other Curtin policies or procedures (curtin.edu/policies).
- Anyone is entitled to lodge a complaint through an online form which is available at curtin.edu/integrity. The Integrity and Standards Unit can assist you in this process if required.
- If your complaint is not resolved to your satisfaction and you have evidence to suggest proper process was not followed by the University in coming to a decision, you may either submit a new complaint explaining where you believe proper process was not followed or contact an external agency, such as the WA Ombudsman, to request a review of your complaint.

  A list of external agencies is available at curtin.edu/complaint-management

For more information on policies visit:

Privacy act – release of academic results and student information

Under government law, Curtin is not able to disclose academic performance details, enrolment information or personal details to any unauthorised persons, including family members, unless you have given written consent. Academic results cannot be released until the official release date.

Your student responsibilities

As a Curtin student, it is your responsibility to:

- understand and comply with all relevant laws, statutes, rules, by-laws, guiding ethical principles, policies and procedures relating to your rights and responsibilities as a student
- participate constructively in your learning experience
- be aware of information on course requirements, unit requirements and academic progress
- behave in an appropriate manner in classes, showing respect for both staff and fellow students
- act honestly and responsibly in relation to academic matters and the use of University facilities at all times
- recognise that cheating, plagiarism and fabrication or falsification of data are not acceptable
- adhere to the proper use of copyright material
- act at all times with respect for the rights of others, and to accept and embrace diversity
- be available during the examination period (you should schedule any travel arrangements for after the examination period)
- switch off your mobile phone during lectures, tutorials and when in the library
- access OASIS (the online student portal) and check the Official Communications Channel at least once every seven days
- pay tuition fees by the due date (if you fail to do so, you will incur an enrolment sanction)
- ensure all enrolment details are correct
- ensure your student visa remains current and reflects the specified length of the course you are enrolled in
- obtain permission from the University prior to withdrawing from a class.

It is a condition of your student visa that you:

- maintain up-to-date contact details with the University, including an Australian residential address and phone number
- notify the University within seven days of changing your residential address while you are a student at Curtin
- satisfy your course requirements and maintain a valid enrolment
- maintain your overseas student health cover (if your health cover expires, your benefits payable will be suspended).

To find out more about student rights and responsibilities, visit curtin.edu/student-rights.

Join our Kalgoorlie community

Studying at Curtin offers you the chance to make lifelong friends and develop global networks for travel, employment and further study

The key to making meaningful connections begins with being open and approachable, and showing genuine interest in the people you meet. Be the first one to initiate conversations with your classmates and people you meet during social events or orientation, everyone feels as nervous as you!

Remember, building friendship and connection takes time, so don't be discouraged by initial rejections or awkward moments; they're a natural part of the process. Put yourself out there, be yourself, and the rest will fall into place.

Top tips for getting involved

Sign up for Guild clubs

- Joining clubs is one of the best ways to meet great people, network and make the most of your time at uni. There are multiple clubs at Curtin Kalgoorlie to get involved with, including:
  - Women of WASM
  - WASM Wombats (Mining Games)
  - MET (Metallurgy) Club
  - WASM Muslim Students Association Kalgoorlie (WAMSAK)
  - WASM Social Club and more!
  - WASM Wolves Mine Rescue Team
- Each club offers unique opportunities to connect with peers who share your interests.

Check out the Curtin Guild website to find out more:
https://guild.curtin.edu.au/wasm/clubs/
